My best gift was a game. My mom and dad get me a PS2 game. I enjoys playe the game every day. And I get some gamesto. And I will get some more games next week.

Score Point: 1

This response reflects fundamental deficiencies in expository writing skills. The choice of a "PS2" game as the writer's best gift is clear. However, the reasons provided to support the writer's choice are undeveloped (my mom and dad got it for me, I enjoy playing everyday, and I got some games). In addition, the response contains serious errors in mechanics and usage.
